

A Lovely Little Game Of

SCARECROW and Mrs. King

BINGO!

Plaid Sightings

Mark your card AND raise a glass if the plaid in question belongs to the dear departed Dean.

Postcards from L.A.

Mysteriously, the SMK gang is often seen meeting up on marinas, talking spy stuff at taco stands, and chasing baddies against the backdrop of the Hollywood hills...

Amanda Doesn't Listen

Which usually leads to adventure and mayhem...or closing the case and rescuing Lee.

Amandabands/ Banana Clips

Love 'em or hate 'em, a part-time spy's gotta do something to keep her hair out of the way while part-time spying—or checking out her smokin' partner.

On The Run, Yet Again

Looking good while running for your life is hard—unless you're Lee and Amanda.

Lee's Losing It

Jaw clenched? Voice rising? Cheek muscle flexing? Better run for cover, Scarecrow is about to lose his stuffing...

The Russians Are Coming

It wouldn't be a Reagan-era spy show without Soviet-sponsored, vodka-swilling bad guys and gals lurking around every corner.

Back Porch Encounters

Nothing says "I'm a spy, you're a baseball mom living a double life" like a clandestine conversation on a suburban back porch (or in Dotty's rose bushes).

Smashed-Up Station Wagon

If they gave out Purple Hearts for cars, Amanda's ride would surely be the most decorated vehicle in history...

Zany Bad Guys and Gals

They abound on SMK—and have you noticed how many of them seem to drink tea, sport accents, or skulk about the Virginia countryside?

Ridiculous Covers

Seriously, they don't even remotely look like brother and sister. And does anybody really meet up at night to save the clams?

School Projects from Hell

You know, Amanda really got robbed when she didn't win "Mother of The Year"...

EVERY EPISODE SMK Goes Over The Top

True fans know that plot craters and improbable story lines are all part of the fun!

EVERY EPISODE

Abundant Abductions

Amanda is the kidnapping/hostage target of choice for SMK baddies, but sometimes they give her a break and drag off Lee, Francine or Billy instead.

Awesome Action Sequences

Exits by helicopter, escapes by boat, flying leaps, and explosions... no wonder our favorite partners don't have time to notice they're in love.

Pretty In Pink

Amanda always brings her A-game when it comes to her signature color.

Lee and Amanda Get Interrupted

Just-missed swamp kisses, Francine appearances, and early King family returns make us groan, swear, and binge another episode...

Amandarambles

Oh, Amanda. You're never more adorable than when you ramble.

SMK Gymnastics

Punching a bad guy in the face is satisfying, but executing a somersault, half turn, and a kick BEFORE you punch him in the face is tv magic.

Mrs. Marston Is Unimpressed

And we're pretty sure she's got Lee and Amanda's number, too...

Amanda Has Standards

Hold up, SMK peeps. Amanda's not going to do the wrong thing, even for the U.S. government. And quit trying to share a room with her, Scarecrow...

Dotty Has Something to Say

Buckle up, everybody. Dotty has half a mind to write a letter...

Driver's Ed

Amanda can't drive a stick, Lee can't park in the lines or remember his keys, and SMK folk in general can't seem to avoid out-of-control car chases.

The Pajama Game

No doubt about it, the King boys love their robes and jammies—and don't we love how cute they look wearing them?

Swoony Moments/ Tender Touches

Cheek-to-cheek dancing, smoldering looks, hand holding and undercover kisses... but they're just friends. No, really.